

Rosalyn Costanzo

the Artist

Dallas Native, Rosalyn Costanzo is a Contemporary artist. She is currently working on a steady stream of commissioned pieces for private and commercial use. Raised in family of artists, she credits her creative home life as her major inspiration. Her desire to find meaning in life lead to the evolution of her art and put her on a serendipitous journey that landed her a title as an artist. Like most artist she wanted to leave some proof that she was here. She has done that and continues to inspire others to the same.

the Path

Rosalyn is currently working on custom pieces and is in the process of developing a line of handbags. She imagines her future will always include art as she hopes to one day have her own Gallery. For now she is working to develop and launch her own business that centers around artists and their creative processes, what she calls a "Creative Think Tank".

You can find her work at Fete Home Collection and Suze Restaurant, where you might just be eating near one of her master pieces.

"Organic" Art

Using primarily acrylic on wood, she allows the wood to be the focus of the piece. These pieces are serene and often give the sense of calm. By using a multiple piece collections she creates a sense of movement.

"Architectural" or "Design" pieces

She finds images in patterns and then enlarges the design to create the image. Using fabrics and various textiles as her canvas to create a texture that really gives the image an interesting dimension.
